THE SPIRIT OF

BENJAMIN F. BUCK
First Principal of Senn High School

Nineteen hundred thirteen saw an unfinished school building and the birth of Senn Spirit. What had only a few months before been an empty lot became the center of all those little life dramas that make youth an unforgettable memory.

Since that first year many changes have taken place: war has come and gone; styles have swerved from pompadours and hair-bows to page boy bobs and swing skirts; prosperity, depression, and recession have followed upon one another's heels.

Benjamin F. Buck, one of the finest of men, ceded his principalship to D. M. Davidson, a man equally fine.

One thing alone remains the same—that Senn Spirit that came into the world way back in 1913.

January, 1938, Class

The last semester of the January, 1938, graduating class is memorable for at that time Senn opened its Silver Jubilee year. On a twelve hour notice, the school opened Thursday, September 16, the delayed opening being due to the infantile paralysis epidemic.

Class officers were elected promptly. Richard Warner, James Miller, June Salzman, Richard Diete, and Rosalyn Friedlander got the All School Council under way, with the help of Principal Davidson.

Football came charging in with a team that won the North Section Championship. OOOh; Senn, three thousand strong, watched Austin nose out Senn for city championship.

More school spirit bubbled over as the Thanksgiving and Christmas funds increased over those of other years. Charity begins at Senn.

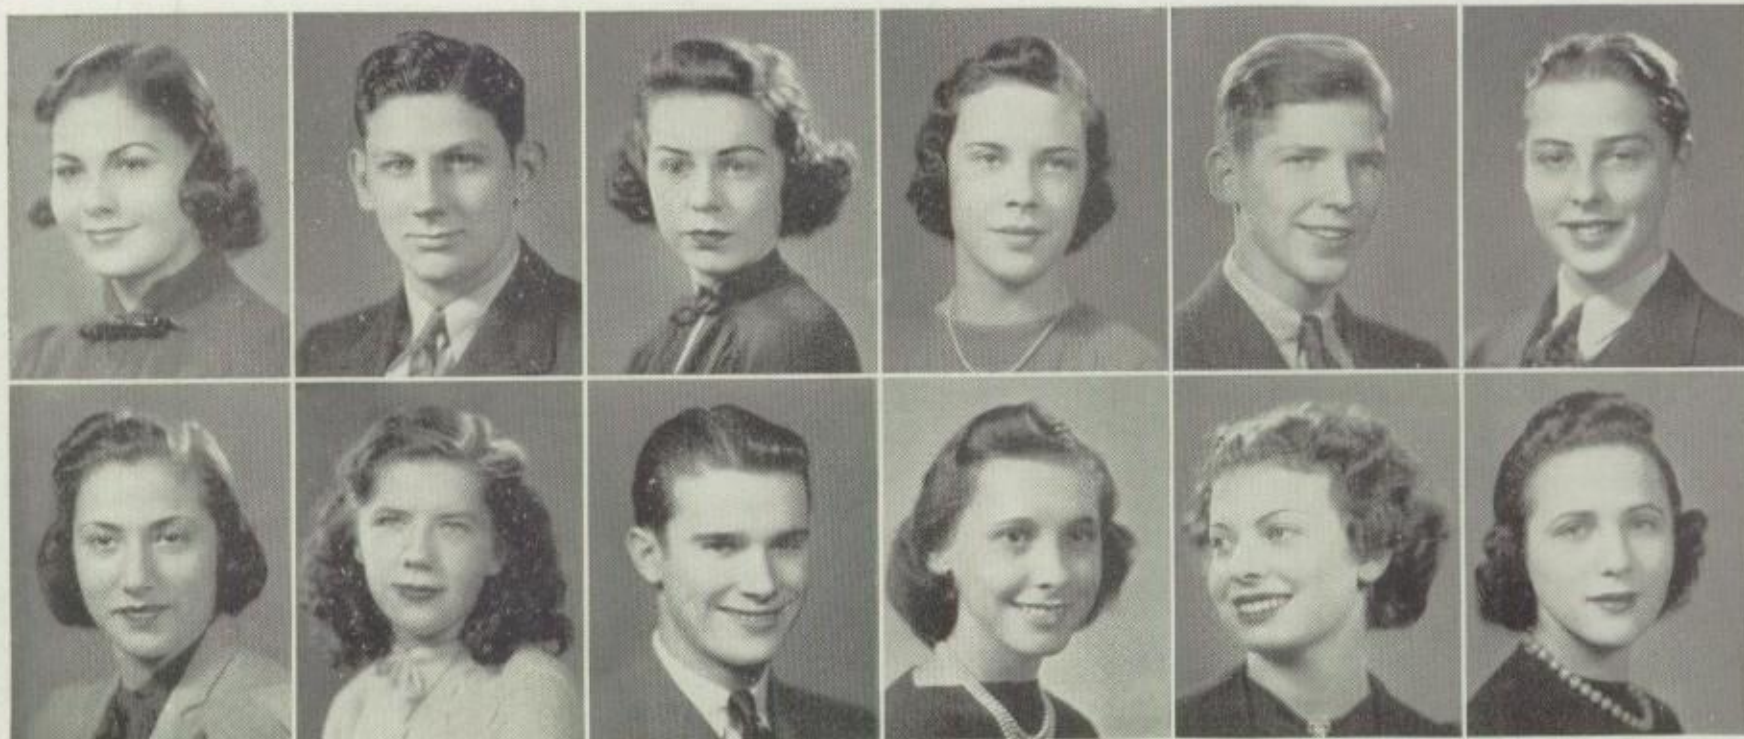

Senn Hall was packed as the Players turned on dramatic talent in Pride and Prejudice!

Then came basketball with two fighting teams in Green and White.

The Senior Prom at the beautiful Grand Ballroom of the Knickerbocker Hotel was a never to be forgotten event.

The Senior Luncheon — the last complete gathering of class and teachers was an illustrious event.

Graduation, Speeches, Music, Tears and Diplomas made a glorious ending to high school careers of the Class of January, 1938.

WALTER LEIS
All School Council

June, 1938, Class

In 1913 Senn's original class consisted of two graduates. This year the class numbers five hundred twelve. The class of 1938, symbolic of twenty-five years of Senn progress, is not outstanding in numbers alone. During the past year Senn has won many honors under its leadership.

The amazing school spirit and pep of this Silver Jubilee class first appeared as the school cheered on the football team in the championship game at Soldiers' Field last fall. With the advent of the spring semester this vigor went still further as Senn band won the City Championship and advanced to the Nationals. The All School Council, under the leadership of the senior officers, did much to raise sufficient funds to send the Band to the national contest. The class of 1938 placed second in the nationwide University of Chicago scholarship examinations. In the field of athletics Senn won city second places in her fencing and apparatus.

Going on in the tradition that has brought Senn its many achievements during its quarter century of existence, the Senior class has this year more than ever come forward with all the spirit and color that represents Senn.

With the unexpected and flying start with which school began on Thursday, September 16, 1937, Principal David M. Davidson, as adviser, started the Senn All School Council on a semester of intensive service to the school.

The Senn Parent-Teacher Association membership drive was the first big step; the second was the Thanksgiving Collection, which was the largest that Senn has ever seen. The returns from the Christmas Basket Fund were comparatively as generous.

Sponsored by the All School Council were all the pep assemblies for the winning football team, including a big Pow Wow held the evening before the Tilden victory.

The Public Relations Committee is a new group instituted by Principal Davidson to look after school publicity.

The entire semester went through the way it had begun, flying on the wings of success.

All School Council—Spring

Twenty-five years ago Senn High School students, guided by Principal Benjamin F. Buck, began developing the ability to govern themselves, and this aptitude continues even to this day.

The All School Council of the Silver Jubilee year is one of the most efficient the school has ever known.

The twenty-one class officers, with their adviser, Principal David M. Davidson, have many brilliant achievements to their record.

At the beginning of the semester the All School Council jumped in to further the great Senn News Subscription Campaign and followed it closely with the sale of the Silver Jubilee Forum Annual.

Clean-up, Paint-up, Plant-up, Light-up. April 11 to April 30 campaigning made Senn the cleanest community in the city. This committee was headed by Charles Satterfield.

The Senn Band won a superior rating in the City Contest. All School Council funds helped to send the Band to the National Contest at Elkhart, Indiana. They also supported the big Music Concert.

Senn Honor Society

Senn Honor Society will not reach its jubilee year until 1944; nevertheless, it is an extremely important part of school life. Ambitious students of Senn have the Honor Society as their objective.

The requirement for admission to this organization is high scholarship. The grade requirements are E or S in every solid and G or E in all liquid subjects.

Principal David M. Davidson is the adviser of this organization which has a membership totaling about eight hundred, thirty-five of whom are seven semester members.

The greatest honor that can be accorded to the graduating Honor Society student is to be elected to the National Honor Society, which stands not only for high scholastic achievement but also for outstanding service to the school. The members of the National Honor Society are chosen by Principal Davidson and a group of the faculty.

Initiation takes a place in Senn Hall at an unforgettable ceremony attended by all Honor students.

Senn Dramatics

Quoth Emerson, "The voyage of the best ship is a zig-zag line of a hundred tacks." If the zig-zag effect is any criterion, this must be a sturdy craft in which sail the students of dramatics! All the dangers of the deep, all the perils of the known and unknown, all the obstacles to progress, all the—well, anyway, every sort of thing has happened to turn us from our course.

Two things only have stayed in these years that have led to this year of jubilee in which Senn green mingles with the traditional silver of the quarter century—the directors and their dream.

Some years back, these present directors paid tribute in the pages of the Forum to all those who had helped build the beginnings of Senn dramatics. During those early years there was no organization to help the work along, and plays were presented with the maximum of difficulty. Since 1919 a growing organization has erected a sturdy structure on those early foundations.

Have we mixed the metaphors? Perhaps that will lend the spicy flavor which variety is supposed to supply. In any event, the unexpected, the unanticipated, the uncounted-on, these are the things one learns to take for granted in dramatics.

If we were to try to tell you in four words the most important facts about our work, perhaps they would be Dramatics, Players, Workers, Romance. That is our story in a nutshell. That explains the emphasis on the unexpected. We're always on tiptoe in anticipation of whatever is around the corner or over the hill. Things don't have a chance to get dull or tame. We never know what a day holds but we're always sure it will be something vital, something interesting.

Potpourri is the special dish for the Senn Silver Jubilee and the best recipe is one suggested by the Players and Workers of 1938.

Remember the day when Disraeli wore a Pinafore to the Shakespeare pageant? It wasn't the same year that Hiawatha met the American Citizen. Nor was it the year that the Pirates of the Penzance fought Captain Applejack. But anyway, it occasioned much merriment. And when Daddy Long Legs brought a Kiss for Cinderella at the Twelfth Night Ball, Dear Brutus thought that was one too much and retired to Sherwood Forest where he found the Rose Maiden and the Bohemian Girl watching the Maneuvers of Jane with a Happy Go Lucky Merchant of Venice. Well, there was Beau Brummel looking as glorious as a Midsummer Night's Dream and he decided that Once in a Blue Moon somebody should ask Charley's Aunt to a Washington Pageant. However Monsieur Beaucaire took exception to the idea and stated that she would be sure to wear Green Stockings and they were quite out of Fashion with The Royal Family and it would be even worse than the case of The Purple Mask which they all remembered too well. To this came the quick reply, If I Were King I would give the lady Seven Chances and then either put her in the Tiger House or send her to Seventh Heaven in the Thirteenth Chair. An uproarious laugh greeted this sally, but when The Farmer's Wife told how in Passing of the Third Floor Back she had seen The Lion and the Mouse plotting with The Mikado to steal The Elf King's Daughter, they shrugged their shoulders and exclaimed You Never Can Tell. The Admirable Crichton then roused himself from his Dreams and stated that he had Seven Gifts which would be distributed at the Annual Concert. So all the Little Women put aside their Pride and Prejudice and decided to have a good dish of Potpourri served As You Like It.

Barrie, Shaw, Shakespeare, Noyes, Parker, Klein, Jerome, great and near-great playwrights, past and present, are a part of the dear memories of Senn dramatics students.

Who can estimate the cultural benefits of bringing plays that are literary masterpieces and excellent entertainment into the lives of students whose only experience with legitimate theater comes to them across the footlights of their own high school?

Only this spring a new point of cultural experience has been reached in the presentation of three Shakespearean plays after the manner of The Globe Theater of Merrie England. The Comedy of Errors, Romeo and Juliet, and Julius Caesar gave dramatic students at least a new idea of the power of the master playwright, and certainly gave the audiences a new idea of the story value of his plays.

Variety of experience, variety of production, variety of choice of play, modern mystery, wistfulness and whimsy, melodrama, tragedy, poetry, comedy, Shakespeare conventionally produced, Shakespeare produced in a manner consistent with the best historical traditions adapted to Senn's Stage and Senn's audience . . . these things are our memories.

1938 Forum Annual

Silver Jubilee, and a Silver Jubilee Annual. An Annual that was published only after intensive thought as to its planning, for it had to be a book worthy of commemorating Senn's Silver Jubilee. It took the collaboration of two efficient staffs, art and editorial, to accomplish this goal. It took months of work, hours of study to achieve the desired results.

Mirretta Kiser and Virginia Dahlen concentrated on graduate biography, Ann Atkinson edited write-ups, Ruth Stratton and Alberta Judd handled all financial affairs. Mary Jane Swift took care of the Identifications for group pictures, Ruth Mader managed the Faculty section of the book, while Patricia Coughlin had charge of the Graduate section.

June Pearce was responsible for the poetry to be found on the Division pages.

Robert Ladevich, head of the Sport Staff, saw to it that school athletics were well represented. George Baly, Don Temple, Don Friedman, and Richard Fritzshall worked under him.

Tom Atkinson developed and executed a tremendous publicity campaign.

Each had his individual job, but it took all of them pulling together with the expert aid of Miss Corcoran, to make the Green and Silver Annual for 1938.

The Staff of the 1938 Silver Jubilee Annual, small but most efficient, carried to completion Senn's most outstanding Forum. a worthy souvenir of a great school.

Night! Green, silver lights piercing the darkness with the sparks of inspiration that go as quickly as they come. Then Dawn—the sparks bringing hopeful rays which flash forth ideas flying pencils hasten to catch on paper. And soon day-light, able now to see ahead guided by Miss Devine with Ronny Wood, Art Editor, and Rosemary Shea, Assistant Art Editor, aiding one and all.

Ronny capturing the spirit of classes. For twenty-five years bells have run, clocks have turned, and periods have come and gone. Has Rosemary caught some one under the spell of spring fever, or does it, perhaps, represent many springs in Senn's Life. Milly Lou Sapp's Activity Page with the Glee Club as one of the many organizations active in the past years. Katherine Gump's Athletic Page brings forth the symbolic silver cup rightfully ours for twenty-five years of fair sportsmanship. Don Peterson's and Adele Koeninger's long bodied people active in individual clubs and Adele's Tree of Life sprouting forth in her Ex Libris. Roy Long's skill is shown in the lettering that adds a finishing touch as Erwin Hyman's end sheets do. And last but not least, Roy's and Marion Lindstrom's snapshots along with Shirley Mohlin's Finis, whose sun sets behind the Tree of Life, after twenty-five matured years.

Miss Devine served the school capably and well and it is because of her that the art work in the Senn Forums has been exceptionally fine.

Senn News

One of the most outstanding and successful years in the annals of Senn News history is drawing to a close. Besides being the occasion of the Silver Jubilee celebration of Senn High School, it marked the Majority Anniversary of the Senn News—the glorious culmination of twenty-one years of rapid growth and constant progress.

As a special observance of this all-important event, the staff made this a special Edition Year. The special editions included the Silver Jubilee, the Hallowe'en, the Armistice, the Junior paper written and edited by the Junior Journalists, the Senior edition, the April Fool, and Memorial Day paper, and many others.

Associate Editors Lester Winsberg and Esther Gerber more than earned their titles by their work on the first and second pages, respectively. Harriet O'Brien and Shirley Blacker, as Assistant Editor, handled the third page and did some first rate news writing on the side. Richard Fritzshall and George Baly most commendably edited and assistant-edited the sports page. Rewrites and special assignments were worked out by June Pearce, Richard Goldberg, and Abe Falick. The business staff, the backbone of every successful organization, was managed by Annette Brown and Bob Henry, who deserve special recognition for their work in this department.

Senn R. O. T. C.

Lt. Col. Joseph Doherty, Lt. Col. Abe Falick, and Maj. David Stanley watch the Regiment in Review

With the largest number of cadets enrolled for many years the Senn R.O.T.C. has made itself into an even stronger factor in school life. In the fall semester, three hundred twenty-eight cadets were enrolled. Spring swelled the enrollment to four hundred fifteen.

Technical Sergeant George L. Searle, now in his fourth semester as Senn Military Instructor, has had a colorful career as a Marine, as a First Lieutenant in the Air Service, as an army sergeant, and as an orderly to the late President Warren G. Harding. It is under his close surveillance that the unit has become the crack regiment that it now is.

Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Donald Price commanded the regiment during the fall of 1937; second in command was Major Dave Goldstein.

The spring semester 1938 saw Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Joseph Doherty in command, facing the task of piloting the regiment through the shoals of Federal Inspection. Second in command was Cadet Lieutenant Colonel Abe Falick of the Cadet Corps Staff.

North Shore Post, No. 21 of the American Legion, close ally of the regiment, sent two Senn cadets, Corporal Alvin Ash and Corporal Sherrill Smith to Boys' State at Springfield, Illinois, in the summer of 1937. The regiment turned out en masse for the Armistice Day parade of the post, and supplied crack exhibition squads for special meetings of the North Shore Post. Representatives of the post were guests at both Military Balls.

In the fall a detachment of cadets participated in flag raising ceremonies for the new Goudy Elementary School.

Lieutenant Colonel Abe Falick and Major David Stanley were appointed to the Cadet Corps Staff on the basis of competitive examinations with twenty-seven other schools. They hold the posts of Chief of Staff and Plans and Training Officer respectively.

Chairman of the Military Ball in the fall was Major Dave Goldstein, who established a precedent by introducing professional entertainers into the program. Members of his committee were Lieutenant Colonel Donald Price, Major Robert Tyndall, Captain Lawrence Anderson, Captain Ernest Samuelson, and First Lieutenant Terence Jackson. Johnny Raptis and his orchestra played for the Military Ball in the Crystal Ballroom of the Edgewater Beach Hotel on December 17, 1937.

In the spring Captain Terence Jackson, not to be outdone by his predecessor, planned an even more pretentious affair, employing Jack Chapman and company to waft the current swing tunes to the selection of handsomely uniformed cadets and their ladies.

Aides to the chairman were Lieutenant Colonel Joseph Doherty, Lieutenant Colonel Abe Falick, Major David Stanley, Major Robert Tyndall, and First Lieutenant Stuart Park. Setting was again the Crystal Ballroom of the Edgewater Beach Hotel and the date April 28, 1938.

Medal winners of the fall were: Officers' Efficiency, Captain Joseph Doherty; Noncom Efficiency, First Sergeant Robert Dellenback; Rifle Marksmanship, First Lieutenant Roy Long; Neatness, Sergeant John Southgate and Sergeant John Kreman; Recruiting, Corporal Edward Patrick; Band Efficiency, Major

Robert Tyndall; Reserve Officers' Medal, Major Dave Goldstein.

Chicago Tribune Gold Medals were awarded to Major Dave Goldstein, Second Lieutenant Warren Darnell, Sergeant Roy Domoney, and Corporal Richard Bell, while Cadets Allan Perraud and Arthur Thorpe received silver medals.

Spring of 1938 brought awards of similar medals for that semester: Officers' Efficiency, Captain Hubert Plain; Band Efficiency, First Lieutenant Stuart Park; Noncom Efficiency, First Sergeant William Kiefer; Rifle Marksmanship, Corporal Roy Breitenback; Neatness, First Sergeant Ralph Johnson, Corporal Jack Waage, and Cadet Ralph Tober; Recruiting, Captain Ross Merritt; Reserve Officers' Medal, Lieutenant Colonel Abe Falick; American Legion Auxiliary Medal, Major David Stanley; United Spanish-American War Veterans Auxiliary Medal, First Lieutenant Warren Darnell.

The Senn Officers' Club, which determines many regimental problems, posted Lieutenant Colonel Joseph Doherty as President, Lieutenant Colonel Abe Falick as Vice-President, Lieutenant Alvin Ash as Secretary, First Lieutenant Sherrill Smith as Treasurer, and Captain Hubert Plain as Sergeant-at-Arms.

After a lapse of two years the Regiment again stepped off on its annual regimental march to participate in maneuvers at Edgebrook Forest Preserve, April 21, 1938.

Office Practice

The Office Practice consists of about fifty or sixty Juniors and Seniors who are under the supervision of Miss Harris. Office Practice serves not only the students and teachers of Senn, but also visitors.

These students work in the various parts of the office as assistants to Miss Harris, Mr. Mess, Miss Sheridan, Mr. Satterfield, Mr. Zimmerman, Miss Harrison and Mrs. Coath, including Mr. Bell's office.

The Senior class adviser as everyone knows is Mr. Satterfield; the Junior adviser is Miss Harris; the Sophomores', Mr. Zimmerman; and the Freshman, Miss Cavanaugh.

It is to these advisers that students go with their troubles about their studies. The advisers steer the students on the right path of their course to college entrance, general preparation for life.

Miss Sheridan has charge of credits college applications, truancy reports, and class membership enrollment. It is she that is so helpful and patient with Seniors who fill out applications for college and in turn send their credits to the inquiring colleges which the students have chosen. To help her do the jobs, Miss Sheridan has many able assistants.

Mr. Mess as assistant principal manages students programs and enrollment of new students to Senn. It is he who has brought that very fine system of enrollment of classes to Senn. He works on this system every semester, improving it, to make matters easier for both teachers and students.

We must not forget the girls who work for Mr. Bell, our district superintendent, and his secretary, Miss Bowen. They are very fine girls and we are very proud and happy to mention them.

In conclusion may we say in being helpful to the teachers and students of Senn, the Office Practice receives helpful information that they will use in the businesswork.

Ed. Smith, and R. O. T. C. Band

For many years the Senn Band has been considered one of the finest musical groups in the city due to its outstanding record in local and national competitions. The semi-annual concerts are always eagerly awaited both by Senn students and by music lovers of the surrounding communities.

The band was organized by Captain King in the year 1921 and soon became the outstanding band of the city, when it won the city contest in 1924. In 1929 the band won its first national championship and repeated this performance the next year. In 1933 the band entered the national competition at Evanston and received the highest rating ever given a high school band under the direction of the present conductor, Capt. Chas. Ostergren.

Captain Ostergren is embarking on his ninth year as conductor at Senn, and this year has produced one of the finest bands that ever entered a competition.

Aside from the concert routine, the band performs many other interesting functions in school life among which are providing the music at assemblies, playing for the R.O.T.C. reviews and parading at the football games in the fall.

The splendid performance of the band at the Senn-Austin City Championship football game in Soldiers Field was one that will be long remembered by those who saw it.

At the fall concert on November 24 a delightful program was heard by a full house. Selections played included the finale to Tchaikowsky's Fourth Symphony and the World War Fantasy, the latest number to come from the pen of Ferde Grofe.

The band show is always an outstanding event on the school calendar and this year's show given on the 24th and 25th of February entitled, "Mr. Thistlewaite Goes to Town" was probably the greatest hit of anything ever produced in Senn Hall.

Bill Harding

R. O. T. C. Band

It comprised a fast-stepping musical comedy and a lively vaudeville show that kept the audience roaring from start to finish.

The band department at Senn is divided into three groups, the beginners, of which there are four classes, the military or secondary band for advanced students and the concert band. Capt. Ostergren is assisted by members of the concert band in the instruction of the beginner groups, while the military band is at present under the leadership of Marjorie D'Vore.

Probably the most important group of all in the system, however, is the Senn Band Parents Association, whose responsibility it is to raise sufficient money to meet the ever present expenditures such as new instruments, repairs on instruments, and transportation of band members to the contests. The association is now under the leadership of Mr. E. V. Hughes.

The library of the band is numbered among the finest in the world; untold hundreds of compositions, classical, semi-classical and marches are available for the use of band members.

Many instruments, too, are owned by the band and these are loaned to the pupils in the beginners' classes for their work as beginners. Thus untold opportunities are offered to students at Senn who wish to take up instrumental work.

Ever since the arrival of Capt. Ostergren in 1931 the band has remained in the superior division in every competition it has entered and this, indeed, is a fact of which to be proud.

The band also plays for the numerous R.O.T.C. affairs which occur from time to time throughout the year and in the last year has come to be considered one of the finest marching groups in the city.

The Program Theme, "Know Your School," has brought student activity demonstrations to the assembly at every program.

A Parents' Night with students from the field of sport and gymnastics and a tour of the vocational shops were outstanding.

Miss Cavanagh, assisted by Mrs. O. Sidenius, gave students aid. Twenty-four students received eye examinations, 4 were outfitted with glasses, 6 had ear examinations and treatment, 12 were supplied with materials, 8 were given work book outfits, 9 dental cases were cared for, and 1 had complete dental reconditioning with a plate, 6 Christmas baskets were prepared, 10 lunches and milk were given out daily, and 3 students were sent through the Medical Clinic.

All this came to a total expenditure of $235. The Ways and Means Committee, under Mrs. W. J. McLaughlin, has made this fine program possible.

Membership has reached the record number of 576. Mrs. Timmons, Juvenile Protection Chairman, has adjusted four serious problems without publicity to the school.

The 4A Recreation hour was started. Members of the football team received gold footballs for outstanding work in 1937.

Plans for landscaping the track and campus were approved and are underway.

Senn Chorus

Senn's array of musical talent, for years recognized to be among the city's finest, has continued in its excellent work this year under the capable direction of Miss Cameron.

Ultimate goal of all Senn singers is a place in the A Cappella Choir, whose chief work during the semester was the preparation for its Spring Concert in May. The Fall semester was climaxed in a Christmas program, which was presented in collaboration with the Mixed Chorus and Girls' Glee Club.

The latter two organizations are subsidiaries to the A Cappella Choir, the Mixed Chorus being the second step in preparation for participation in A Cappella. A well balanced choir organization, the Mixed Chorus, is noticeable in its team work and spirit.

Thirty-five voices comprise the Girls' Choir, whose members have yet to realize gaining places in the Mixed Chorus and A Cappella Choir. The work in this organization gives much promise for future membership in both of the higher organizations.

Senn Orchestra, directed by Captain Charles Ostergren, and six hundred singers from the music classes of Mrs. Etta Millar, Miss Marie Hildemann, and John P. Hamilton participated in the Music Festival on May 27, which was presented by the A Cappella Choir, the Mixed Chorus and the Girls' Glee Club, the entire production being under the leadership of Miss Cameron.

An outstanding feature of the Music Festival was the pantomimic characterizations of Seven Ages from Shakespeare's As You Like It with songs and musical accompaniment. The characters wore seventeenth century costumes.

Marshals

Efficiency . . . justice . . . service . . . courtesy . . . co-operation. These are the outstanding qualities to which the Senn Student Marshals, comprising Senn's great civic organization, may justly lay claim. The Spring Semester has seen this group of ardent Sennites augment itself not only in mere numbers, but in the point of several important adjuncts of which every smooth-working organization is possessed.

Each period, headed by a major, assisted by a captain and three lieutenants, is managed by a force of marshals. The tenets of these boys make it possible for all students who are loyally obeying the regulations to pursue their various activities without coming into the club's jurisdiction of offenders. Besides assisting in the matter of fire drills, the Marshals have tried to impress the school at large with the importance of clearing the school quickly and efficiently, a goal which has already been partially attained under their guidance.

Not all of the Marshal program, however, has incorporated school discipline and fire control, for several outstanding social events, in the form of officers' meetings and dances, have been held. The most notably successful of these events was the dance at the Palmer House, given on May 6. This brilliant social affair was opened to the school.

The future of the Senn Student Marshals is one filled with great predictions and capabilities. Led by popular Dr. Brown of the faculty, the club is sure to continue its tradition of service and progress.

Senn Lunchroom Committee

Early in 1913 when the new Nicholas Senn High School was nearing completion, Benjamin F. Buck, the principal, invited the Rogers Park Woman's Club to operate its lunchroom. The project was of sufficient magnitude to require thoughtful consideration and only when the Club felt convinced that it could render a service to the community did it vote to undertake the project.

This was not a philanthropic undertaking, but more of a civic work, the first consideration being to give the pupils and teachers the best quality of food at the lowest price. The Club through twenty-five years of service has not deviated from this ideal. The food is always selected with regard to its purity, quality, and wholesomeness first. The question of price is a secondary consideration.

The Club has kept the equipment up-to-date and the latest labor saving devices have been installed from time to time in order that service might be given in the shortest possible time. One large section of the dining room is maintained by the Club for students who wish to bring their lunches.

The Club employs as manager an expert in the field of home economics and dietetics, a bookkeeper, as well as a trained chef, baker, a large staff of kitchen help and an average of sixty pupils employed in various capacities. In addition to these workers a volunteer committee of approximately one hundred and forty members of the Rogers Park Woman's Club serve behind the steam tables and cafeteria counters. The committee is divided into separate committees who serve under a day chairman. This entire group works under the direct supervision of a general chairman who is a member of the Board of Directors of the Rogers Park Woman's Club.

When the new addition to Senn was opened the lunchroom expanded into larger quarters with the latest equipment installed in the new serving room so that today the Senn Lunchroom ranks as one of the most modern and efficient of the Chicago schools.

What did we do? Let's see now—O, I know. Well, last fall we had a gypsy tea, yes, gypsy, you know with costumes and a program and things; and at this tea we had our art exhibit and awards were given for different types of work. How about this spring? Oh, sure, this spring we had a Swedish tea, with an entirely new exhibit and more awards. Oh, it's more fun; you spill tea and shoot sugar lumps into the cups, and squirt lemons here and there and everybody has a rousing good time, especially the faculty! Didn't we get anything done? Why of course. Each member worked on a special project for the semester and these projects ranged from poster contests to oil paintings. What did I do? Why nothing, I'm the third figure to the left on the south wall of the new mural!

This activity was ushered in with the completion of the South Wing, which includes the Conservatory.

Membership is limited to 40, and is drawn from all four High School years. Anyone who is truly interested in the propagation and care of plants and who is willing to assist in maintaining the conservatory finds a hearty welcome.

Since no appropriation is made for the work, two methods of support have been devised. First, selling plants raised in the conservatory to anyone who cares to buy, and second, conducting sales of plants and cut flowers suitable to various occasions such as Christmas, Valentine's Day, and Easter.

Trips are made after school to various neighboring greenhouses, both wholesale and retail. Each year two boys and two girls are chosen to assist with Easter and Mothers' Day trade at one of Chicago's leading florists. They return with the latest methods of making corsages and wrapping plants.

Senn Music Club, under the sponsorship of Miss O'Malley, was organized in September, 1937. The purpose and object of the club is to sponsor growth in music appreciation and to offer those who play or sing the opportunity to perform for an appreciative audience.

During its first semester the club struggled against the numerous odds that confront any newly organized group; but through the foresight and sagacity of Miss O'Malley the club ended its first semester impatient to begin its second.

In January, 1938, sponsorship of the club was put into the excellent care of Mr. Hamilton, who has augmented the primary coachings of Miss O'Malley in developing the Music Club into an extremely fine organization and instilling in its members ambitious and high ideals.

Qualifications for membership are: A desire to receive more enjoyment from music, a willingness to participate wholeheartedly in club activities, and a desire to abide by the rules and laws of our school and club.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club is organized to interest the student in a better understanding of Spanish life, history and art. Members are divided into committees, each one having charge of at least one meeting of the semester. The drama committee has given several playlets during the Wednesday meetings. Frequently the club has as its guests speakers who talk on Spain or Latin America, either in English or Spanish. The slides committee arranges for the showing of slides from Spanish speaking countries. Songs and games are always prepared to fill in extra time. Miss Scheerer is the moving force behind the organization, supplying ideas which keep the meetings popular with the students.

During the fall semester Miss Marsh was the adviser.

A group of serious minded Senn student zoologists, motivated by their realization of the necessity for a beneficial outlet for their scientific interests, have developed a club holding three sessions a week. Two of the sessions are devoted to actual lab work, the third to reports on the week's activities.

Labeling themselves the Senn Zoology Club, they have made astounding progress in certain activities in the wide field of zoology which cannot be covered in the seven class periods a week.

Experiments in nutrition and heredity are being conducted. Various animals are being collected and cared for in the aquaria and terraria of the lab. Skeletons, museum jars and models are being prepared and will become a part of the permanent laboratory equipment. A bird calendar adds interest to the bird study work.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Tyler the club convenes in room 302.

Scribblers has been organized in order to encourage and assist those Senn pupils who are interested in various types of creative writing. It has been functioning for several years under the sponsorship of Miss Kracke.

Meetings are held every Wednesday, fourth period. Members read their manuscripts after which frank and constructive criticism is offered. Pupils are adept in the writing of short stories, criticisms, and occasionally good poetry. Miss Kracke has an appointment with each member at least once during the term, thus enabling the student to receive individual attention and guidance in his work. Except for these consultations, meetings are managed entirely by students.

At the beginning of the school year, the club published a book, Wood Bees, containing poetry and prose written by members. The Scribblers Club is compiling a scrap book so that material will be at hand in the event of another book of this type.

The Senior Pythagoreans is a club conducted for all mathematicians who have completed at least two years of math.

Its programs are concerned almost entirely with the solving of problems, both geometric and algebraic types. One club period a month is devoted to the solving of puzzles and other forms of mathematical stumbling stones.

The Constitution of the original Pythagoreans has not been in use for several years. Some interested students volunteered to ask as a committee to read it and make any revisions necessary. From time to time they informed the club of their findings, which were very entertaining and oftentimes amusing, as this document was written in 1920.

One of the major projects of the club is an attempt to acquaint its members with the "why's" and "how's" of the slide rule. In an effort to further this project a representative of one of the larger slide-rule factories was asked to demonstrate these instruments.

Junior Pythagoreans

The disciples of the famous Greek Mathematician, Pythagorus, assemble during the sixth period every Wednesday. The Junior Pythagorean club was founded in February under the sponsorship of Miss Sandberg.

The vice-president chose Ronald Metzger, Alice Zenner and Joseph Wyatt as his entertainment committee, who provided the club with entertainment in the form of brain-teasing puzzles, catchy puns and problems.

A demonstration of the use of the slide rule, given by Charles Satterfield, a Senior Pythagorean, proved very educating, since it illustrated easier methods of multiplying, dividing, and finding squares and square roots.

An invitation from the Senior Pythagoreans to join them in visiting the Slide Rule Co. was accepted. Plans were also made to visit the Planetarium and Bahai Temple.

Originally it was the Ancient History Club, but the members unanimously voted in favor of a current events club, and the result is the World Today Club. It is under the supervision of Mr. Howard, history teacher.

During the meetings, on Wednesday, sixth period, the members participate in debates on topics of current interest. The main event of the semester was a trip to the Rosenwald Museum, which was instructing to the sightseers in the line of mechanical devices. The club plans to sponsor at least one such trip every semester.

Thoughtful, interesting talks by the members of the faculty who have traveled in foreign countries give much first-hand information. These talks help the club picture more clearly the life of the people told of, the importance of foreign affairs and their effect on American policies. The club planned many panels and forums on timely topics.

Field trips to interesting spots in and near Chicago are made.

Senn Econ Club is Senn's newest and largest organization. Representing principally senior history and economics' classes, it was organized in the spring of 1938.

Members of the club, numbering approximately one hundred twelve, have enjoyed many interesting programs, among them an account of touring in 1922 by Mrs. Birk, a vivid picture of camp life in France during the World War as experienced by Miss Pardee, while in the Y. M. C. A. Canteen Service; and an exciting, verbal journey to scenic Scotland under the skillful guidance of Mr. Robertson. A Professor Quiz program was also an entertaining feature. The quiz was organized in two opposing teams of club members under captains, and the questions were alternated. Members contributed many unusual and amusing questions and faculty members acted as judges.

Owing to a clever system of dual program committees under the leadership of Howard Blomgren and Howard Cohan respectively, the club participated in debates, panels, and discussions.

French Club

This year Senn has seen one of the most popular school clubs revived—the French Club. Although the fall semester saw a group of advanced students present Noel en Provence, the first formal meeting of the French Club was not held until April. The object of the club is to give to its members a France which lives in the memory and in the imagination, and not one that merely projects itself through conjugations and verb-forms.

With the guidance of Miss McKenzie, Club Adviser, the members acted in a scene from Cyrano de Bergerac, the famous classic by Edmond Rostand. Featuring the program of the group during the spring semester was a visit from the French Club of Northwestern University, which presented the play Les Deux Sours in Room 325 to an appreciative audience.

Dash and spirit have marked all its enterprises, especially the production of Beaumarchais' The Barber of Seville, given by the senior students. Advance students enjoy the varied plans of the club each Wednesday during the class period.

Football

Sectional Champs! Semi-finalists! And then—City League Finalists!

That's the enviable record held by Senn's 1937 Gridders. Marching through North Section contenders, sweeping them aside one by one, the Shamrocks entered the City semi-finals, whipped the Central leaders, and wound up a whirlwind season by meeting the West Side Champs for the City League Championship.

The work of Coach Dow is especially commendable, realizing the fact that he turned up with only four previous regulars, Leis, Osterveer, Carlson and Vivirito.

Dow based his team on speed, providing a none too heavy line, and much lighter backs. Cookie Leis was about the heaviest of the regular backs, and he only tipped the scales at 165. But fast breaking, smart playing and clear thinking enabled Dow to produce the best Shamrock squad in the past eleven years.

When Senn's first game rolled around, the Shamrocks found themselves facing a well balanced schedule, headed by an equally well balanced Roosevelt eleven. This game was against one of the three toughest opponents Senn had to face in their schedule. The Rough Riders' passing attack had Senn baffled toward the end of the game, but powerful line play, headed by Cookie Leis, enabled Senn to crash through the opener with a 6-0 win.

The next games were more or less set-ups for the Green and White, Lake View being defeated 20-0 and Waller 27-0. These games only went to establish certain facts concerning the backfield: Leis was definitely a running ace, Jackson a passer, and Quarterback Milliken the best blocker in the section.

The following Saturday, October 16, the Shamrocks invaded the home field of the Lane Indians. It was a memorable contest, especially to Joe Jackson. Undoubtedly the hero of the day, Joe kept the Indians at bay with his long, accurate passes and kicks. It was his 42-yard pass to Bobby Nelson in the opening minutes of the game which secured the victory, and first place, for Senn. The line, too, was a sight to watch. Led by Osterveer and Brookman, these boys were able to hold when the chips were down. Twice Lane came within a yard of a touchdown, but twice they were turned back scoreless. When the final gun went off, Senn was in possession of a 7-0 victory.

That game cinched the North Section title for Senn with only Schurz causing any trouble. The Green and White defeated in order Sullivan 21-0, Schurz 13-6, and Amundsen 7-0.

Senn entered the City Semi-finals, facing Tilden Tech, Central leaders. Here again it was Cookie Leis who led the way. Plunging and passing throughout the game like a demon, he followed Billy Milliken's generaling and blocking, and finally, in the final period he converted a 6-0 defeat into a Senn victory by passing to Cliff Aberson for a touchdown. Then with the stands tense, Hal Nugent, most used player on the team and the lightest lineman, stepped back from his left end position and booted over the point which gave Senn its victory. Roy Osterveer made it 13-6 when he fell on a free ball in the Tilden end zone.

Austin, West section defenders, also had won their semi-final game, defeating Fenger of the South Side. Paced by the sensational Bill DeCorrevont, the Austin boys were conceded the victory by the majority of the Chicago critics. Yes, Austin did win, but to this day there are still many of these same critics who will tell you that Senn outplayed the Maroons.

Cookie Leis outshone DeCorrevont, virtually ripping the Austin line apart. Senn scored first, in the second quarter, but couldn't put the pigskin over again. Senn showed the scrap for which they were famous, and don't let anybody tell you that Austin didn't have to earn their victory. The defensive work of Vivirito, Brookman, Osterveer, Carlson, and Leis was nothing short of sensational, and the same goes for Milliken's blocking. The final score was 14-6.

Nothing but praise can be given to that 1937 team, and each and every player deserves it. Cookie climaxed his high school playing days by being selected on the Public School All-Chicago team. He was also chosen Honorary Captain of the Shamrocks for the second consecutive year. Billy Milliken was given the Doctor Timmons' Award for blocking.

Junior Basketball

Senn's junior cage squad played through an inglorious season, winding up in a three-way tie for last place, and boasting of only two victories in the North Section race.

The team was greatly handicapped from the very beginning, having only three players, Bob Everhart, Dick Johnson, and Johnny Benson, returned from the previous year. Another problem was with the coaching situation. Ed Dow found himself too engrossed with his Championship Football Team to continue with the Juniors, so he passed them on to Harry Malloy, but in mid-season Malloy was given a full program as a History teacher, so Harry Leighton took the team over.

It was with this green team, led by Captain Bob Everhart, that Senn opened the season against Sullivan. The Rogers Park boys did the one thing no Sullivan team had done before—Beat Senn!

Throughout the first half of the season the Shamrocks were paced by Bob Everhart, who rang up 52 points in five games. Bob graduated in February, and Jim Garrigus took over where the Captain had left off; playing in all nine games, Jim led the team with a total of 61 points.

The only two victories were at the expense of Schurz and Lake View, the second and third games of the year. Everhart and Garrigus were the main factors in these wins, Bob scoring 15 points against Schurz and 11 against Lake View, and Jim tallying 10 and 12 points respectively.

Senior Basketball

The Senn Senior Basketball team ended a mediocre season with a .375 average. They won three games out of seven and they tied one. Their initial game was with Sullivan, whom they easily conquered 34-20. The scoring was evenly distributed between the Senn players and having had a successful practice season they looked like potential champions. This possibility received a setback, however, when they lost to Schurz the following week. The score was 30-21, with Wozny and Farr scoring 21 of the Schurz 30 points. Schurz eventually proved to be runner-ups in the North Section.

The next game was played away from home with the Lake View quintet. This game proved to be a thriller with the Shamrocks eking out a 28-26 victory. Amundsen was Senn's next opponent and they dealt a 31-26 defeat to the Senn men.

The Waller game followed Amundsen and was the last game in which February graduates could compete. Nygren, center, and Warner, a forward, were leaving the team. They left with a decisive 37-26 victory behind them. Al Port, Senn's high scoring guard, played an outstanding game, garnishing 7 baskets and 4 free throws for a total of 18 points. The next two games, played with Lane and Roosevelt on our own floor, were defeats for the Shamrocks. The game with Lane was lost to a tune of 32-18, while the Roosevelt contest was lost by one point. Senn was ahead throughout most of the game, but a last quarter rally cut down their lead to within one point, which was lost when a last minute shot went in for Roosevelt. The final score was 32-31.

The Steinmetz game was a tie game, which Senn again missed winning by a last minute shot. The Shamrocks were winning 12-7 at the half, but their lead was slowly cut down and at the end of the last quarter both teams were tied. The overtime proved futile as each team scored 4 points to make it 29 all. The last game of the season was played with Von Steuben at their gym. The Shamrocks were taken 40-29 by the team that proved to be city champs and semi-finalists in the State Tourney.

Al Port, Dick Disselhorst, Bill Sampson, and Dave Evans played their last game for the Green and White. Port was scoring ace of the team, playing a brilliant and consistent game at one of the guard positions. Disselhorst played the other guard position and was consistently good at backboard work. He was especially good when the going was rough and tough. Sampson and Evans played the forward positions and were more than fast enough. They were scoring threats at all times, but lacked the height to make under the basket shots. The height problem incidentally was what was wrong with the team as a whole. They lacked the height that goes with a championship team.

Next year's team will probably be made up of Yost, Garrigus, Dwan, Katz, Castello, Temple, Hayes, Elmer, and Millen. Yost played frequently as a heavyweight, while Garrigus and Castello were regular lightweights. Dwan, Temple, and Katz are expected to be regulars next year due to their recent improvements, and with the experience furnished this year Elmer and Hayes, both tall men, will round out a prospective team.

Track

The Junior Track team enjoyed a fairly successful indoor season in 1938, taking five of six practice meets. The young tracksters came off with second place honors in the City Meet.

Captain Seymour Cousin paced the team, running up a total of $59\frac{1}{4}$ points in the practice sessions. He topped it all by coming out of the City Meet with the highest individual score. He took a first, second, and third, good for 12 points.

The Juniors' first victory was at the expense of Austin, 49-19. That was the widest margin of any Junior meet in which our team participated. The next school to be vanquished was Steinmetz. The score of that contest was 44-15. Then came a triangular meet with University High and Schurz. The Green and White were triumphant, making 31 points. Crane followed, handing the Shamrocks their first defeat. The Sennites were downed 42-34. In the final two meets, Lane and Maine offered the opposition. Both schools were conquered, the former $34\frac{1}{2}$ to $27\frac{1}{2}$ and the latter $25\frac{1}{2}$ to $24\frac{1}{2}$.

The Seniors had a very disastrous season, dropping all of their meets by large margins. The scores were: Austin, $78\frac{1}{2}$ - $16\frac{1}{2}$; Steinmetz $59\frac{1}{2}$ - $17\frac{1}{2}$; University High, Schurz, $56\frac{2}{3}$ - $27\frac{1}{3}$ -20; Crane, 63-23; Lane, $59\frac{1}{2}$ - $29\frac{1}{2}$; and Maine Township 57-17.

The only Senior to be a consistent winner throughout the season was Captain Harold Nugent. In all the meets in which he competed he took high honors in the pole vault. In the City encounter, he tied for first place in the aforementioned event.

In the City meet, four Juniors garnered points: Seymour Cousin, Harold Esrig, Sheldon Levin, and David Blumenthal. Cousin made his in the broad jump, dash, and shot put. Esrig added 4 points in the shot put. Levin and Blumenthal each counted for 2 tallies in the high jump and broad jump respectively.

Robert Schlau led this year's cross-country team, taking a sixth place in the City Meet. Two men placed in the novice division. George Reckas, second, and Howard Brinkman, fifth.

Apparatus

The Senn Apparatus team this year was led by Captain Jack Richards, and the Shanken twins, Earl and Courtney.

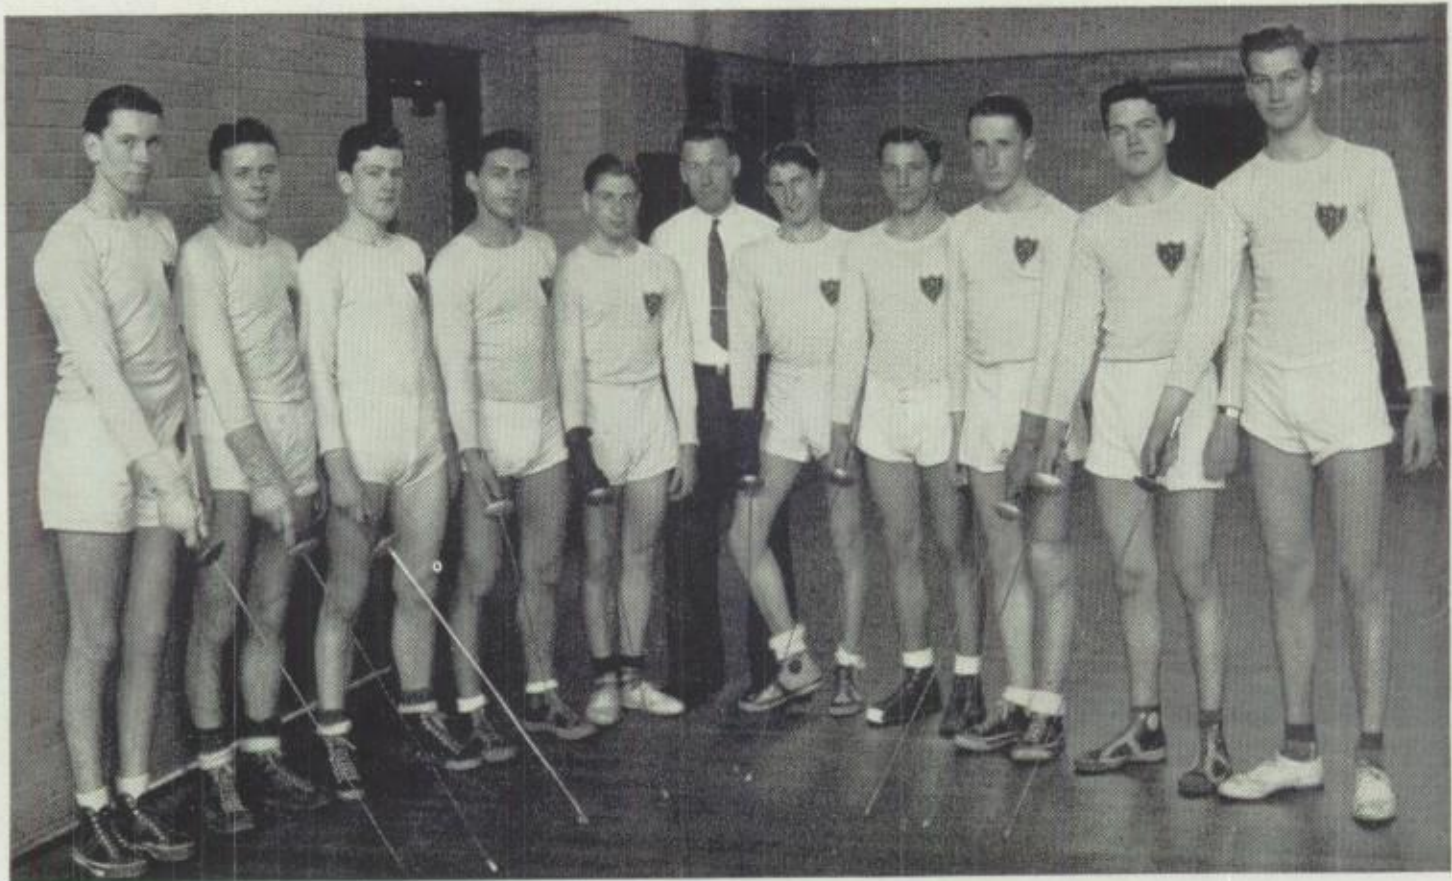

With Coach Bergmann training each man and urging every member to perform his best, the gymnasts worked conscientiously all year in anticipation of the city meet held at the University of Chicago April 16. Not only did they practice daily in their third period class, but also after school at every available chance. But all this hard work just fell short of stemming the Lindblom tide which swept over opposition to take the city title in the championship division for the thirteenth consecutive year.

Several of the gymnasts were members of last year's city championship squad who upset Lindblom's long record of successive novice gym triumphs. But most of the 1937 letter winners were lost by graduation. In addition to City Champ Jack Von Holt these were Ken Myers, Joe Soffer, Jerry Sholdar, Dick Diete, and Ray Korngold. This year

Lindblom went back to their winning ways; the Shamrock apparatus team tried their best but lost by eight points.

The individual honors, however, were all Green and White with Earl Shanken winning the city senior gym championship to culminate four years of earnest effort. Captain Richards placed second and Courtney Shanken grabbed the fourth spot. Although these boys really showed their stuff on the apparatus too much emphasis cannot be placed on Coach Alfred Bergmann's expert handling. Three gymnasts, Richards, and the Shankens, won their major "S", while Cookie Leis, Dick Raney, and Arnold Newquist earned their minor letters.

In January Coach Bergmann entered about twenty of his boys in the AAU gym meet at Independence Park. Five boys returned with medals, Jack Richards, Earl and Courtney Shanken, Francis Even, and Robert Beyer.

The 1938 Fencing Team under Coach Shaffner slipped a notch below their 1936-37 achievements, finishing second behind Austin in the city meet.

The squad consisted of the "big ten," Jack Millen, Bob Oliphant, Henry Hauser, Ed Robnett, Bob Deming, Don Friedman, Lou Zuckerman, Warren Malik, Eugene Kelly, Sheldon Morrison; with the first four boys comprising the starting lineup.

Although they ran a close second to Austin in the city meet, the boys fought hard all the day and two fencers, Millen and Hauser, received medals. All of the "big ten" are juniors, and with further training from Coach Shaffner the Green and White Musketeers will surely capture the city crown next season.

The Senn fencers had six dual meets during the year. They defeated Roosevelt, Lake View, and Lindbloom twice while Austin's unbeatable squad proved too strong for Senn in the remaining meets.

Individual honors in the city meet were captured by Fishman and Stella of Austin, finishing first and second, with Senn's Jack Millen grabbing the third position.

Last year's team also copped the Kraft Cup championship. If the team can do the same this year and next, Senn will be first to gain permanent possession of the cup.

Jack Millen will be awarded a major letter for his fine performance in the city meet. All other major letters, if any, will be awarded on the accomplishments in the Kraft Cup meet.

Baseball

The Senn Baseball team, with three regulars back from last year's outfit, opened their season against Amundsen, Schurz, and Lane. The Green and White lost to Lane and Amundsen, but overcame Schurz. The Senn nine probably faced the two best teams in the league in Amundsen and Lane. In both games the Shamrocks were blanked with one hit while allowing Lane 9 runs and Amundsen 3. The Schurz victory was a score of 7 to 6 with Treat accredited for the victory.

The team was built around Sampson at first, Blitz catching, and Hauschild's pitching. Aberson's third basing was prominent along with Treat's pitching. Other members of the team that are seeing action are Milliken, Port, Stawick, Van Bogart, Leis, Smythe, Procuniar, and Marks.

Swimming

This year the Senior team made quite a good showing in city competition. Out of seven practice contests the Shamrocks came out on top five times. The Junior squad dropped one more tilt than their older buddies in the same number of meets.

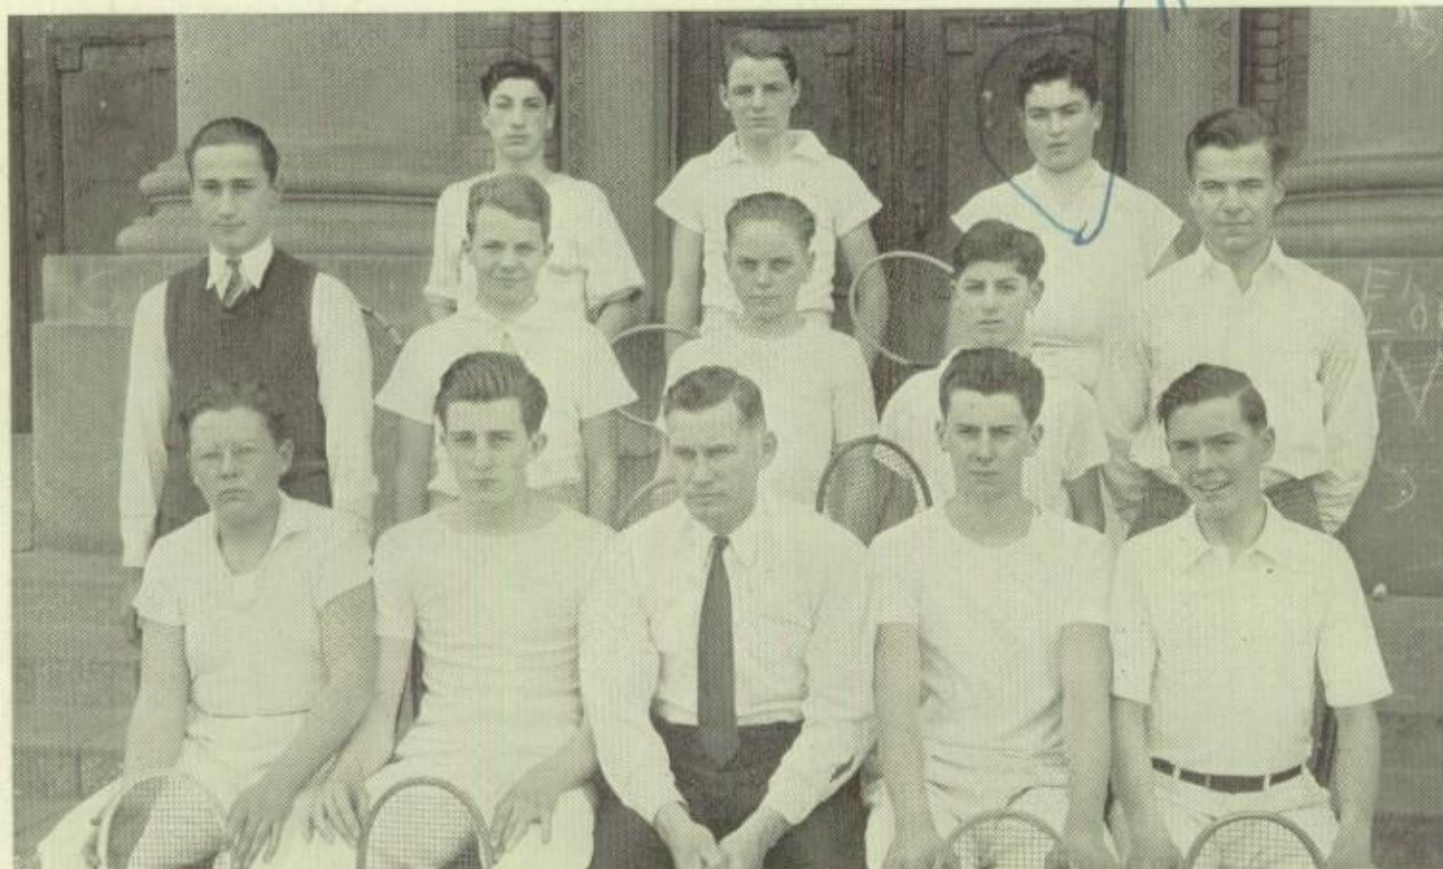

The Seniors first victory was snared from Steinmetz by the very close score of 34-32. The Green and White then lost their first meet being on the short end of a 36-30 count against Roosevelt. The Sennites won their third encounter beating out Manley 37-29. They followed this by downing the Von Steuben swimmers 42-24. In the next meet our team rolled up an advantage of 30 points, Amundsen being the victim, 38-8. The fifth and final win was contributed by Lake View, 44-20. The season was finished against Crane. The Teckmen came off with a 40-26 victory to their credit.

The Juniors started the season by taking care of both Steinmetz and Manley before bowing to Roosevelt. Steinmetz garnered 16 points to our 30 while Manley was nosed out 24-22. The score in the Roosevelt tussle was 37-29. This loss was followed up by two more victories. One was taken from Von Steuben 40-17, the other from Amundsen, 28-20. Crane and Lake View offered the opposition in the last two meets and both were successful in their quest for victory.

The main standbys on the Senior team were Captain Edward Richter and Worth Carbery. Another fellow who contributed quite a little to our victories was Leo Fisher, who competed in the back stroke event. Richter usually swam in the breast stroke and in the long distant free style events. Carbery was a short distance free style artist.

The outstanding Junior was Howie Jaynes an expert diver and free style swimmer. A couple of other men on the younger squad who showed promise during the season were Sidney Jenkins and Jim Gerstein.

Tennis

For the first time in quite a few years, Senn was represented in the University of Illinois tennis tournament held at Champaign, Illinois. The Green and White qualifiers were little Jimmy Evert, Carl George, and Grant Yost. Evert participated in singles, while Yost and George played as the doubles team. Johnson and Weissbourd just missed out going to the tourney. They played as the other Senn doubles team but lost.

Evert qualified for the tourney by beating entries from Kelvyn and Morgan Parks. Chicago was represented in the tourney by players from Senn, Parker, Lane and Tilden. Yost and George qualified by whipping the Hyde Park doubles team. Lake View, Parker, and Hyde Park were also represented in the doubles division.

The Shamrock tennis squad is made up of 10 members. Beside Evert, Yost, George, and Weissbourd, there are the Danks brothers, Moss, Sholke, Edson, and Leighton. The last three are all 1Bs and were ineligible to play this year. Evert is a 1A and Yost a 2A, and at the present time they are the best in the school. Between these two and the three promising first semester boys, a State championship for the Senn tennis team does not seem unlikely in one or two years.

Evert and Leighton formed the winning doubles team in the intramural contest in which over 30 teams were entered; Yost and George being runner-ups. In the singles tournament Evert won in a walk-a-way. For the first time in the history of the school an indoor tennis court was installed. It is on this court, located in the boys' big gym, that all future intramural tournaments will be held.

Row 1: Coach Miller, Johnson, Temple, Wells, Schlau.

Golf

The members of this year's veteran squad consists of Don Temple, Warren Johnson, Bob Schlau, Al Wells, and the alternate, Ira Goldstein.

In Temple, Johnson, and Schlau, Senn has three experienced golfers returning from last year's squad, which finished in third place. These three hold down first, second, and third positions in that order.

Senn's "divot diggers" opened their season on May 2 at Big Oaks against Von Steuben. This match was followed by matches against Roosevelt, Sullivan, and Lake View.

Last year the team easily vanquished Von Steuben and Roosevelt but lost heartbreakers to Sullivan and Lake View.

In the annual fall tournament, in which Temple and Johnson were not allowed to compete, Bob Schlau beat Al Wells 5 and 4 to win the championship and Ira Goldstein won a 4 and 3 decision over Joe Libman for third place.

Coach Miller, recognizing the talent in the candidates for positions on the squad, had the squad practice indoors during the cold winter weather, which set them off to a flying start in their quest for a city championship.

The team probably would have been much stronger had it not lost Captain Homer Beatty by graduation. His place was taken over by Don Temple, a junior.

Senn's golfers were entered in the qualifying round of this state tournament, which was held at Cherry Hills Country Club. The low sixteen were sent down to the University of Illinois to compete in the finals.

Nereids is an organization composed of girls who are advanced swimmers and who endeavor to promote a greater interest and proficiency in this aquatic art among the girls of Senn.

During the eighth period on Monday, members practice strokes and work for points toward their letter. On Wednesday mornings all members meet for business and social purposes. Every other meeting is held for the purpose of discussing and planning swimming meets and other activities of the group which take place outside of school. The alternate meeting is social, at which time the various classes entertain each other. Tap dancing, singing, and the playing of various musical instruments have delighted the group.

During the latter part of every semester, the club sponsors an Intramural swimming meet. Captains are elected from every class and these girls form their teams from club members as well as from interested and proficient non-members. Diving, various swimming events and some surprise numbers comprise the program.

S. G. A. A.

Senn Girls' Athletic Association is an organization which is open to the girls of the school who are interested in all types of athletics and out-of-door activities. It consists of a point system in which one thousand points are required for the awarding of the school letter "S." All points must be earned during a regular school year and the school letter may not be earned in less than two years.

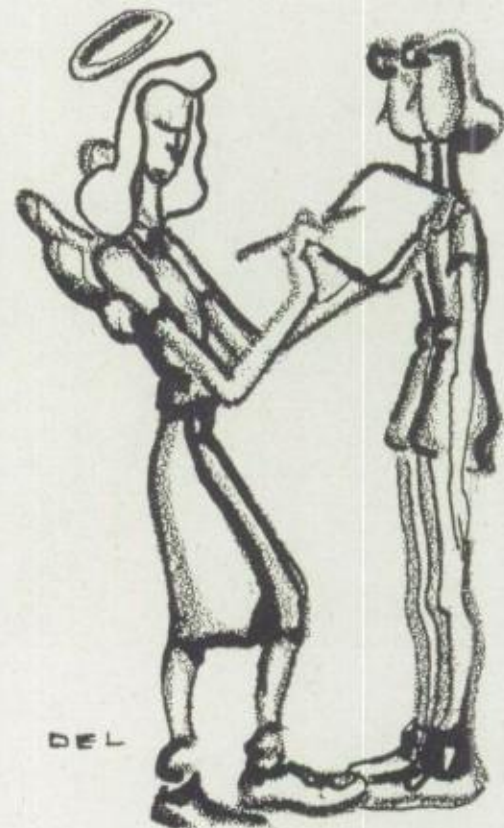

Eight hundred points are required and must be earned in the manner indicated, while the remaining two hundred may be earned in the various activities on the optional list.

Any girl who has won her school letter may win a star by earning three hundred points in addition.

Leaders

The Senn Leaders Club was organized in 1934 to promote athletic efficiency and leadership, and is one of the leading girls' sports organizations. The girls win a club emblem when they have accumulated five hundred points in athletic events such as jumping, throwing, chinning, etc. These emblems are hard to obtain and only a few girls have them. The club pin is a small gold replica of the emblem, and may be worn by any member.

Emblem girls now in Senn are June Rushe, Ruth Lindberg, Shirlee Swedlund, and Louise Broberg.

Through these halls by arduous day
Reigns a tyrant loud and cross,
Who'll many a flying student flay,
An obstinate and brassy boss,
But when the bell sleeps at his station,
It's time for student recreation.

THEIR REAL PERSONALITY

Warp of youth's symbolic green
Woof of honor's pennant white,
Threaded with a silvery sheen,
Laugh embroidered, tear bedight
Firmly woven with a pen,
Fabric of our mater, Senn.
